SHRIEKS OF INSANE FILLED THE AIR AS THE ASYLUM BURNED

Twelve Bodies Recovered from Ruins of Hamilton, Canada, Insane Asy- lum Destroyed by Fire Early Today

ACTS OF HEROISM ON THE PART OF ATTENDANTS

Helpless Patients Carried Out Through Stifling Smoke—Screened Windows Interfered With Work of Rescue—Dozens Dragged to the Windows and Thrown Out in Life Nets.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 1.—Twelve bodies have been taken from the ruins of the Hamilton insane asylum which was destroyed by fire early today. It is feared that there are many additional bodies in the ruins which are now being searched.

There were 600 patients in the institution when the fire broke out and 85, considered among the most dangerous, were confined in the fifth floor. The asylum was located on the mountain outside of the city and in an almost inaccessible position, so far as the city firemen were concerned.

The fire was marked by a display of heroism on the part of the doctors, nurses and attendants seldom equaled in the history of Canada. Many of the patients were absolutely helpless from disease that confined them to their beds. Others, their reason gone, so that the instinct of self preservation was entirely absent, saw in the leaping flames and crackling sparks merely the splendid spectacle presented for their entertainment. The result was that in numerous instances the endangered inmates of the wards had to be fairly lifted to the shoulders of the hospital force and carried into the road.

Most of the fatalities occurred on the top floor, where the hopelessly insane were confined. The smoke pouring into the big room, filled it, so that it was impossible to see any thing, and the doctors and attendants in charge there had to grope their way about the room. By the time that the attendants got there the escape by the stairs had been cut off and there were only the window left, through which to get the help less to safety.

The first firemen to reach the scene quickly spread life nets and a dozer

RESCUERS STILL HAVE HOPES OF SAVING CLARY

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 1.—Three times have rescuers drilled a six-inch bore 78 feet through earth and rock and failed to penetrate the White Oak Mine drift in which Joseph Clary is held prisoner by a cave-in. The drillers abandoned the third drill this afternoon and immediately started a fourth.

TENDERLOIN GIRLS AFTER NOTORIETY

Richmond, Aug. 1.—What the prosecution regards as the strongest link in the case of Henry Clay Beattie Jr., charged with the murder of his wife, was developed this afternoon when two residents of the tenderloin district of Norfolk, Va., told detectives that they had heard Beattie promise Beulah Binford in a resort that he would "get rid of his wife." The witnesses testified that Beattie and the girl had come to the resort last April and that it was then that the conversation had taken place. The women were taken to the jail and both were positive in their identification of both Beattie and the Binford woman.

The women signed sworn statements today and promised to return and testify at the trial.

MORGAN WILL NOT BE PROBE WITNESS

New York, Aug. 1.—J. Pierpont Morgan will not be forced to take the stand in the defense of the steel trust before the Stanley congressional committee. The committee decided that while it would be glad to hear some explanations from the emperor of Wall Street it would not delay the report if Morgan is not available before the investigation is completed. The steel king is now in Europe and betrays no anxiety to return to the United States.

FINGER PRINTS MAY GIVE CLEW TO THE MURDER OF WOMAN

New York, Aug. 1.—Her head nearly severed from her body, Mrs. Rose Spino, aged 50 years, was found murdered yesterday in her bedroom in a third floor apartment. Beside the body was a large jackknife with which the crime had apparently been committed. A number of bloody finger prints on the knife handle furnished the only clew to the slayer, who gained entrance by means of the fire escape.

Mrs. Spino was a widow and lived with her daughter. The daughter was away from home when the murder occurred.

JEALOUS FARMER ATTEMPTS TO KILL HIS BETTER HALF

Covington, Aug. 1.—Dora Cutshall, a farmer living near Fresno, this county, killed up on Thursday night at the home of a neighbor Saturday night. She caused him to see red. When his wife asked him to accompany her home from the neighbor's house he refused and another man accompanied her. Cutshall intercepted them when they were half way home and shot his wife through the shoulder with a revolver. He was arrested. The village of Fresno and vicinity is much wrought up over the incident as they claim that the shooting was unprovoked. The woman's condition is said to be serious. The matter was hushed up and the shooting did not come to the attention of the authorities until late Monday afternoon.

BANDIT KILLED IN AN ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY

Harlem, Mont., Aug. 1.—One bandit is dead and armed posses are today scouring the country toward Bear Paw mountains for two others who escaped after attempting to rob Senator Everett's First National Bank here. But for the town marshal, who killed one of the bandits, the attempt would have been successful. The men rode into the town on horseback and left one of their number in charge of the horses near the bank. The other two entered and covered the cashier and clerks. One of the robbers was just emerging from the vault with a sack containing $10,000 in his hands when the marshal appeared and opened fire. His first shot passed through the heart of the man with the money. The two companions of the dead bandit made a hurried get away, followed by shots from the crowd that had collected. The posses are maintaining their search for the men in automobiles. It is believed that the robbers belong to the old Kid Curry gang, with headquarters in the Little Rockies.

HORSE KICKED, HOWEVER.

Findlay, Aug. 1.—Isaac W. Shirk, a Wharton blacksmith, has sued George W. Ritter for $10,100. Shirk claims he was asked by Ritter to shoe a horse, which was guaranteed not to kick. It did, however, and broke one of Shirk's legs in two places.

WILL HAVE FREE DELIVERY.

Upper Sandusky, Aug. 1.—Postmaster Gordon received notification today that free mail delivery will be established in this city Nov. 1, with three carriers. A postal savings bank was started here today, with several depositors.

GATES' CONDITION VERY CRITICAL

Paris, Aug. 1.—John W. Gates, the American financier, who has been ill for several weeks is so low today that the attending physicians decided to administer oxygen. His condition is admitted to be extremely critical.

HOMECOMING ENJOINED.

Bellefontaine, Aug. 1.—The first annual homecoming was held yesterday in Springfield. Three hundred people from all sections of the country were present to participate in the program.

STEALS $25,000; GETS 3 YEARS.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 1.—Louis L. Gregory, a cashier of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company here, who pleaded guilty to stealing $25,000, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude.

ONLY 84 AND STILL RUNS A THRESHER

Crooksville, Aug. 1.—Despite the fact that Wilson Combs is 84 years of age, he is again operating his threshing machine this season, moving it about from farm to farm with a traction engine, of which he is the engineer. Mr. Combs is more active than the average man of 50 and works harder than any of the men employed on the machine. He lives in Harrison township, Perry county, and during the winter he cuts lumber from his farm.

UNSAFE BUILDINGS WERE CONDEMNED

Coshocton, Aug. 1.—Following a visit of a deputy state fire marshal to this city yesterday, 34 buildings within the fire zone were ordered razed. They were declared unsafe. Unless the property owners comply with the orders the state will raze the buildings at the owners' expense.

WRECK OF EXCURSION TRAIN OF THE SEABOARD AIR LINE IN NORTH CAROLINA; EIGHT KILLED AND EIGHTY INJURED.

Hamlet, N. C., Aug. 1.—The wreck of the excursion train on the Seaboard Air Line here proved one of the worst railroad disasters of recent years in this section. The train, carrying over 900 excursionists and en route from Durham to Charlotte, struck a freight train, the engines crashing head on. Eight passengers were killed outright. Eighty were injured, sixty of whom are in a serious condition.

FARMERS' FREE LIST BILL PASSED TODAY

Washington, Aug. 1.—The same progressive Republican-Democratic coalition that last week forced the passage by the senate of the Democratic wool revision bill triumphed in the upper house again today when the farmers' free list bill was passed 48 to 30. After being defeated as presented from the house the bill carrying an amendment by Kerns, Democrat, of Indiana, providing for free meat from all countries making like concessions was promptly put through. The measure was lost on the first vote by the deciding ballot of Vice President Sherman, the senate vote standing 39 to 39.

This action followed the introduction and defeat of an amendment by Senator Gowan Republican, of North Dakota, to place cement on the free list. Another amendment by the same senator to admit coal, coke and slack free was defeated 23 to 52. After the defeat of the original bill Senator La Follette moved for its reconsideration, the motion being carried.

The Kern amendment was adopted 49 to 29. As this amendment came from the Democrats it is expected that the house will accept it and that the free list bill will go to the President.

Senator Burton of Ohio opposed the bill while Senator Pomerene cast his vote for it. The one lone Republican Progressive to vote with the stand-patters was Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, president of the National Progressive League. Senator Bailey of Texas was the only Democrat to register his vote in opposition to the measure. The successful amendments by Cronman, Progressive, provides for the free admission of boots and shoes made from all kinds of leather. The bill as passed by the house only admitted shoes made from bovine leather.

The Kern amendment reads: "To make meats, flour and cereal products free of duty providing such commodities come from foreign countries with which the United States has a reciprocal treaty, or which admits without restriction cotton, corn, wheat, oats, horses, cattle, and hogs."

TAX COMMISSION

Has Raised the Values of Street Railways and Interurbans Many Millions.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 1. Democratic candidates for state offices, from the stump last week, promised the people if elected they would work for a revision of the tax laws that would more equitably divide the tax burden among all classes of property owners. Here are some examples of what is being done by the State Tax Commission. Governor Harmon's appointees. The figures represent the old and new valuations of the following properties for taxation.

Property	Old	New
Minister & Lumber Ry. (new)		$15,000
Ohio River Electric Ry. & Power	$26,010	125,000
Parkersburg, Mingo & Intermountain	136,372	600,000
Parksmouth St. Ry. & Light (Railway only)	252,716	900,000
Springfield, Tiro & Plaquemine	115,710	400,000
Springfield & Washington C. H. Ry.	20,000	70,000
Toledo, Foster & Findlay Ry.	162,771	791,200
Mahoning Valley Traction	127,874	7,000,000
Toledo Ry. & L. H. (Railway property only)	2,021,980	11,000,000
Steubenville & Wheeling Traction	81,000	500,000
Toledo & Western Traction	290,000	900,000
Toledo, Port Clinton and Lake Erie Traction
Youngstown P. & Falls Street Ry.	91,550	800,000
Youngstown & Sharon Street Railway	250,000	750,000

Each increase means a gain to farmers, small home and other real estate owners for they have been paying most of the taxes that others escaped paying.

SOLDIERS REPELLED STRIKERS

Rurales Fired Volley Which Killed 14 Mexican Miners

RUSH WOMEN TO SAFETY

Stock of Properties Involved is Held Mostly by Amer- icans.

El Oro, State of Mexico, Mexico, Aug. 1.—In repelling a mob of striking miners who freed the prisoners in the local jail the troops fired, killing 14 and wounding others.

The strikers were from La Esperanza mine, which they abandoned. Yesterday afternoon the men in the Mexico mine, an adjoining property, walked out, and it is expected by the men of the El Oro mine that a strike will be called here some time today.

Fearing they might be the victims of an anti-foreign demonstration, many of the American women were sent out of the camp on a special train over the El Oro mining railroad to Tulcan, from which place they were taken to Mexico City over the national line.

The fears were based upon a circular recently issued by the miners, in which Americans were bitterly assailed.

More than 4000 men, representing the underground forces of the Mexico and La Esperanza mines, are out, and it is these men should be joined by those in the El Oro, the number of strikers would number approximately 7000. They demand higher wages, but it was stated officially today that the properties would be closed down before increases would be granted.

One hundred soldiers have been sent from Toluca the state capital, to El Oro, and President De La Barra has promised additional protection. It is expected 1000 soldiers will be here today, originally consisted of 50 state troops and 25 rurales.

Trouble began early. The rurales had arrested a few of the strikers, and the idle men determined to set them free. Arming themselves with nothing better than chunks of gold-bearing ore, they started up the one street of the town toward the jail, throwing stones as they went at such buildings as offended their sight. They shouted their defiance at the rurales, who fired numerous shots.

Before the mob fled, however, it had succeeded in freeing the prisoners.

Shutters were closed throughout the town and foreigners redoubled their efforts to get the women out of danger.

All day the commander of the little garrison has been expecting more trouble from the gathering crowd of strikers.

Although far outnumbering the soldiers, the strikers have few if any arms, but in a big hardware store there is an abundance of guns and it is assumed that should rioting be resumed this will be sacked.

One danger feared is fire. Unlike most Mexican towns, El Oro is built not of stone, but of wood. This camp is commonly regarded as one of the richest in the republic, the monthly output having reached a value of about $2,500,000 gold.

On the opposite sides of the mountain on which the El Oro properties are located, is the famous Dos Escondidos, and it is feared that the 7000 men employed there may also join in the strike.

The stock of the three El Oro properties involved is held almost wholly by foreigners, principally Americans and British.

REPORT NINE NEW CHOLERA CASES

Victoria, Aug. 1.—Nine new cases of cholera were reported today from the state according to the sanitary commission.

CHILD KILLED BY POISON.

Newark, Aug. 1.—Eight-year-old Frank Pelce, 11-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pelce, accidentally got hold of a box of strychnine tablets and swallowed all but one or two. The child died shortly after in terrible convulsions.

NEW SUBWAY.

New York, Aug. 1.—Ground for the new Bronx-Lexington avenue subway Manhattan's second underground artery of transportation was broken yesterday.

MANY BUSINESS CHANGES

Changes are constantly taking place in business. Often times people undertake various business ventures and find, after a trial, that they are not adapted to the particular line in which they have embarked.

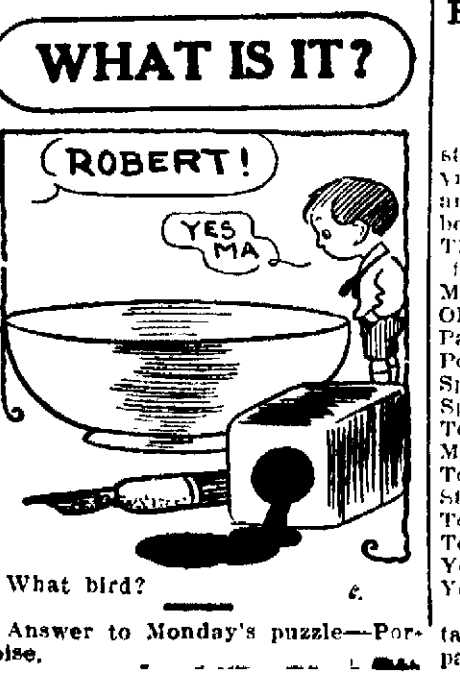

Frequently the proprietors of various businesses find that it will be to their advantage to dispose of their property to some one who is better adapted to make a more pronounced success of it.

Advocate Want Ads are the medium through which most businesses are sold. The proprietor who wishes to make a business change is introduced to the prospective purchaser through the Advocate Wants.

It pays to watch the Advocate Wants carefully.

WOMAN KILLED HER HUSBAND

Cleveland, Aug. 1.—George Sandro was shot to death last night by his wife when he tried to enter her home against her protests. He had been living apart from Mrs. Sandro for some time. She ordered him away when he came home and when he did not go, she secured a revolver and opened fire on him.

WHEELING IN TWO GAMES TOMORROW

The Newark and Wheeling teams are playing this afternoon at Wehrle Park before a fair-sized crowd, and incidentally many Newark players are getting their first peep at the rejuvenated baseball plant. It was surprising to some that the work had progressed so far as it has, but Contractor Houpt is a hustler, and he realized the importance of getting the place ready for today's game.

Wednesday the same two teams meet again, this time in a double-header. The first game will be called at the usual hour for a double bill and the next one ten minutes after the first is finished. Newark's new players will probably be on exhibition in these games and a good crowd should turn out to see the bargain day offering.

Dope in the city papers this morning regarding the new players said to have been signed by Newark was wrong. Martin is not yet a bona-fide member of the Newark club and Mahoney will not be. There is a difference between Martin and the local management regarding salary and until a mutual understanding is reached he will not play. Manager Pendry arranged with Mahoney to play the short field, but for certain reasons President Hamilton asked that this agreement be rescinded and Mahoney notified not to report. In his stead, Cole, an ex-American Association player will report to Newark and play in the position made vacant by Ragan's injury. Catcher McDonough, who did excellent work while Parker was out of the game, has been released.

Midge Craven arrived this morning from Fort Wayne, where he remained to spend yesterday's off day with Shortstop Steve Ragan in St. Joseph's hospital. Craven says that the sympathy for Ragan is general, and his room at the hospital is literally banked with flowers sent to him by friends and fellow players. Ragan is as cheerful as could be expected under the circumstances. He is keenly disappointed in not being able to finish the season with the Newark club, but is taking his hard luck as philosophically as can be.

Dayton, 13; Grand Rapids, 1. Dayton, Aug. 1.—Dayton pounded Besick for 16 hits yesterday and won from Grand Rapids, 13 to 1. Score: R.H.E. Dayton..... 15 12 10 Grand Rapids..... 1 1 4 Batteries—Olmstead and Bohrer; Besick and Schanley.

REDS PLAY AT DAYTON The Cincinnati Reds are playing an exhibition game with the Dayton Yets this afternoon, both teams having an off day. Clary better keep its weather eye open or the Central League leaders will cop the game from them.

WILL TRAVEL SOON. St. Louis, Aug. 1.—Manager Charles Dooin of the Philadelphia National Baseball club probably will return to his home town Wednesday. It is hoped that by that time the plaster cast, in which his broken leg was encased yesterday, will be sufficiently dry to allow him to travel.

PRESIDENT RUSSELL CALES OFF DEAL. Pittsburg, Aug. 1.—Negotiations for the sale of the minority interest in the Boston National League club in Jack Gleason of San Francisco were called off here last night by President Russell, owner of the team. It is said that Gleason failed to get the necessary $20,000 to close the deal.

Another announcement is made that the club is not for sale. Instead, according to Mr. Russell Boston is to be given the best ball team that money can provide.

MUST PAY HIS DEBTS. Cincinnati, Aug. 1.—A complaint by Pitcher Robert Ewing and four other members of the Philadelphia National League team that Player Charles Dooin, formerly with the Philadelphia club, now with the Albany, N. Y. team, owed them $66.75 which he had borrowed at various times in small sums, was denied by the national baseball commission in favor of Ewing and his co-complainants yesterday. Dooin admitted his indebtedness, but claimed that certain members of the Philadelphia team owed him money and that he had instructed them to turn it over to his creditors and that he intended to pay the balance. The commission ordered him to pay the $66.75 forthwith.

PRESIDENT MUST KNOW HIS BUSINESS. Chicago, Aug. 1.—"The franchise of the Des Moines club has not yet been sold and cannot be sold until I know who the prospective purchaser is," said President Tom O'Neil of the Western Baseball league yesterday.

Mr. O'Neil said negotiations could be opened and carried on by owner Higgins for the sale of the franchise, but the sale would have to be approved and announced through the president of the league.

AN APPEAL TO TICKET HOLDERS BY BALL CLUB

President Robert Read of the Ohio State league, wishes the Newark Central league club to have the $2,000 in the hands of the Board of Trade for ticket hooks purchased for the old club, with which to rebuild the grand stand, or to help in any way that may be deemed best. It is urged on behalf of the Newark Central League baseball club that persons holding tickets for admission to the Ohio State League games, and for which they paid $5, waive their right to the ticket, and that the money—which is now in the hands of the Board of Trade—be turned over to the Central league club in Newark, and used to assist in rebuilding the grandstand destroyed by fire Monday morning. Secretary Wells has stated that this means can be used for ten days, and if no claims are filed that he will consider that the plan is favorable to the ones holding tickets, and will turn the money over to the Newark Central league club. Again the request is urgently made that all holders of tickets waive their rights.

HEAR MAGEE'S APPEAL. Chicago, Aug. 1.—Members of the board of directors of the National League will meet here today to hear the appeal filed by Sherwood Magee, left fielder with the Philadelphia club, who was suspended for the rest of the season and fined $200 for attacking Umpire Finneran in Philadelphia, July 17. President Lynch, who suspended Magee, will attend the meeting.

President Fogel of the Philadelphia club last night said Magee probably would testify that he struck Finneran in self-defense. Members of the Philadelphia team and of the St. Louis club, which Philadelphia was playing will also appear.

LINDERBECK SOLD. Marion, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Outfielder Al Linderbeck, leading hitter of the 1909-10 and star base stealer of the Ohio State League, has been sold to Scout Billy Doyle, local club officials announced today. Linderbeck was purchased for a team in the Pacific Coast League. The purchase price is not given out, but the amount received is said to be enough to pay off the old indebtedness of the club and keep Marion in the league.

HANOVER WINS. The Hanover team defeated the Newark Independents Sunday by a close score of 6 to 5. Jones, formerly a pitcher of the Blue Grass league, pitched the game for Hanover, doing it in fine style by striking out 15 men and hitting a home run. The score was tied till the last half of the ninth, when Willey hit one for three bases and Smith scored him with a single to right.

Ball Game. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, the North End team will play the Charles Woodard team of the East End. Sam Harless, Manager East End.

QUAIL COVIES ARE NUMEROUS, DUE TO DROUGHT. Georgetown, Aug. 1. The drought which has prevailed over southern Ohio the past season has made conditions such that the number of quail covies in the fields is the largest in many years. Farmers report eight and ten covies on each farm, where in years past there were only one and two. Birds nest from the shell and nests not yet hatched are to be found frequently. The same holds good with rabbits, but the quail covies are so numerous that all former records have been broken.

HOW RAGAN'S LEG WAS BROKEN In speaking of Ragan's injury in the Sunday game at Fort Wayne, the Journal-Gazette of that city says: "The afternoon's sport was marred by a distressing accident of which Shortstop Steve Ragan, of the visitors, was the victim. In a slide into the plate in the first game he suffered a complicated fracture in the right leg just above the ankle. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where he is now confined. After starting a slide he attempted to hold up, but his sharp spikes caught in the hard clay ground about the plate and the two bones in the leg were broken as a consequence of the jerk. Ragan had played stellar ball this season and his work has had a whole lot to do with the rejuvenation of the former Grand Rapids club. Ragan graduated from a Kansas City college of medicine this spring. He will be out of the game for the rest of the season."

NOTES OF SUNDAY'S DOUBLE HEADER AT FORT WAYNE The Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette has the following comment on the double-header bill Sunday afternoon: "Twice in the second inning of the second game, the locals hit through a vacant spot at short when Pendry ran toward second to bluff a runner on that bag just as Hale pitched.

Craven worked well at third base. In the second game he caught McLaughlin's pop-up just in front of the local's bench while running at full speed.

Koenig's clever peg out Pendry down at the plate when the latter attempted to score on Gray's single in the first inning of the second game.

Old man Hale may have little more than a prayer and a glove, but he certainly gets away with it. He went well throughout the second game.

The real secret of the success of the Newark club in the first season exists in the fact that the manager, Wendor, Fort Wayne castoff, did gallant work as a receiver. He allowed but few hits in the seven innings he worked and no two were lumped in one inning. He relieved Southpaw Gilbert, off whom Fort Wayne scored three in the fourth inning, two of which came over on Wacker's single.

Wickland chased up the bank in the neighborhood of the bull twice in the first game and pulled in drives off the bats of Young and Clancy. Bill hit for Onslow in the ninth inning.

Wrecker Gray, pride of dear old Van Wert, O., got in a lot of dirty work during the afternoon. His lone hit in the first game was a double which helped to put the pride to the bad. In the second he hit like a wild man, getting four hits out of as many chances at bat, in addition to delivering a long sacrifice fly.

With one gone and a runner on second in the first game, Callahan dropped down a bunt and took everybody unawares. He beat Mac's peg to first.

The boy classes of Oliver Optic and Horatio Alger Jr. have been barred from the Chicago schools' libraries as behind the times and "no better than dime novels."

SHORT SPORT

"Ping" Bodie and Snodgrass, two "busted" phenoms each came back with three hits, Bodie against the Yankees, and Snodgrass against the Cardinals.

Although New York, Chicago and Philadelphia are all selecting poles from which to fly the National League pennant, it might be well to note that the Pirates have won 12 in a row and are coming strong.

Because Miner Brown happened to outpitch Alexander the great, Chicago papers say "Brown mightier than Alexander." Pitching records for 1911, however, do not bear out that contention.

Ed. Reulbach had his index finger chewed up in the thorax of the carburetor of his automobile and is out of the game.

Rube Marquard, still pitching invincible ball, took the Cardinals into camp for the second time in the same series. St. Louis got only five hits off the man who so sorely tried McGraw's patience before making good.

The Reds' Albanian pitcher, Keefe, liked the Infants' Spanish twirler Burke. They haven't hanged all the men and women for wearing of the green.

Red Dooin, in a plaster cast, is preparing to go home. The Phillies rooters ought to meet him with a brass band.

Roger Bresnahan is on hand to give expert advice in the case of Sherwood Magee, who punched Umpire Finneran. Bresnahan's numerous astic encounters on the diamond easily qualify him as an expert.

Walter Johnson, the "come back" $7,000 heaver, can't lose for winning George Stovall, please communicate.

The Philadelphia-Detroit embroglio is purposely not mentioned for that was a game that ought to go down into classic history not baseball slang.

DIRECTOR ART MORRIS CALLED TO CLEVELAND Arthur A. Morris, director of the Newark baseball club, left this afternoon for Cleveland to remain several days, being called there by a telegram from his sister.

HOW RAGAN'S LEG WAS BROKEN In speaking of Ragan's injury in the Sunday game at Fort Wayne, the Journal-Gazette of that city says: "The afternoon's sport was marred by a distressing accident of which Shortstop Steve Ragan, of the visitors, was the victim. Craven worked well at third base. In the second game he caught McLaughlin's pop-up just in front of the local's bench while running at full speed.

Koenig's clever peg out Pendry down at the plate when the latter attempted to score on Gray's single in the first inning of the second game.

Old man Hale may have little more than a prayer and a glove, but he certainly gets away with it. He went well throughout the second game.

The real secret of the success of the Newark club in the first season exists in the fact that the manager, Wendor, Fort Wayne castoff, did gallant work as a receiver. He allowed but few hits in the seven innings he worked and no two were lumped in one inning. He relieved Southpaw Gilbert, off whom Fort Wayne scored three in the fourth inning, two of which came over on Wacker's single.

Wickland chased up the bank in the neighborhood of the bull twice in the first game and pulled in drives off the bats of Young and Clancy. Bill hit for Onslow in the ninth inning.

Wrecker Gray, pride of dear old Van Wert, O., got in a lot of dirty work during the afternoon. His lone hit in the first game was a double which helped to put the pride to the bad. In the second he hit like a wild man, getting four hits out of as many chances at bat, in addition to delivering a long sacrifice fly.

With one gone and a runner on second in the first game, Callahan dropped down a bunt and took everybody unawares. He beat Mac's peg to first.

The boy classes of Oliver Optic and Horatio Alger Jr. have been barred from the Chicago schools' libraries as behind the times and "no better than dime novels."

GEO. M. FENBERG WILL MANAGE THE CANTON ORPHEUM

George M. Fenberg, who is managing the Grand and Indiana theatres at Marion, Ind., for O. G. Murray, has received recognition at that gentleman's hands and has been given the management of the Canton, O. Orpheum theatre, a goal which all Orpheum managers strive to reach, as it carries with it a handsome salary and the position is considered the best one on Mr. Murray's circuit. Canton is a city of 60,000 inhabitants and the Orpheum theatre is said to be one of the finest vaudeville houses in the country.

Mr. Fenberg will open the Canton theatre September 4, Labor Day, and a delegation of Cleveland theatrical people will be his guests on that occasion, the affair concluding with a banquet at the McKinley hotel in the evening. Several Newark people will also be present. Mr. Fenberg's many friends in this city will extend congratulations on his new position and wish him all kinds of success and continued prosperity.

GLENFORD.

Dr. A. B. Markley, wife and daughter Rachel of Zanesville and Rev. and Mrs. Kunkle of Fultonham were in attendance at the Holy Trinity Lutheran picnic.

Mrs. O. O. Swinehart and son Don of Junction City are visiting C. L. Swinehart and family.

Misses Hazel Parks and Bernice Lewis and Mr. Adolph Palmer were entertained at the home of Peter Mechling on last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Whitmer of Thornville is spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. M. S. Rarick.

Miss Clara Ridenour of Thornville spent Thursday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridenour.

Miss Lola King entertained the Misses Bernice Lewis, Hazel Parks, Lola King, Messrs. Adolph Palmer, Ewan Fouch, Ralph Roberts and Chas. Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith entertained at their home south of Glenford on Friday night. Music and conversation whiled the hours away. Delicious refreshments were served. All departed at a late hour, praising Mr. and Mrs. Smith for the good time they had had. Those present were Misses Bernice Lewis, Blanche Gordon, Hazel Parks, Lola King, Messrs. Adolph Palmer, Ewan Fouch, Ralph Roberts and Chas. Gordon.

Mr. George Mechling spent Sunday with C. L. Swinehart and family. Several from this place are planning to attend the home coming at Thornville this week.

Mrs. Dennis Cooperider was a Zanesville visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Deroth entertained at their home Sunday evening. Misses Bernice Lewis, Hazel Parks, Lola King, Mabel Swinehart, Messrs. Geo. Mechling, Frank Morrow, Ralph Roberts and Owen Lee.

Mr. Fred Murdoch and family and Mr. Wilbur Murdoch of Fultonham visited at the home of Haven Smith over Sunday.

Messrs. Dana King, Luke Cooperider and O. C. Creighton leave this week on an extended trip through the east. Messrs. G. V. Mechling and M. S. Leekrow have returned from Athens where they attended summer school.

Miss Fawn Campbell of Mt. Perry is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Shelly. The Glenford ball team crossed last Saturday with the fast Mt. Sterling bunch last Saturday. Our boys however proved a match for them and defeated them by a score of 4 to 3. Next Saturday the F. and W.'s will meet the local boys on the Glenford grounds and a good game is anticipated.

Mr. Charles Reed is visiting his parents this week.

DECIDE YOURSELF.

The Opportunity is Here, Backed By Newark Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stronger's state ment.

Read Newark endorsement. Read the statements of Newark citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it:

P. B. Pritchett, 406 Wilson street Newark, O., says: "It is worth remembering to any resident of Newark who knows about Doan's Kidney Pills. When they cure, they do so permanently. I suffered from kidney trouble in 1899 and at that time I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I was pleased to publicly testify to the effect that they cured me and at this time I will gladly corroborate my former statement."

SNAKE BITE POISON SUCKED FROM FOOT BY COOL YOUNGSTER

Ray Kreager of Vine street, East Newark, was bitten on the great toe of the right foot Monday afternoon by a snake, while fishing along the creek adjoining the Priest farm, southeast of the city. Kreager was in his bare feet at the time and was walking through the woods along the creek when he set his foot down beside the reptile. Without warning, the snake fastened its fangs in the fleshy part of the toe and then gilded off into the weeds. Kreager made no effort to locate the snake, but promptly sat himself upon the ground, thrust his toe into his mouth and sucked at the wound diligently for several minutes. His prompt action probably saved him considerable trouble, as he succeeded in getting most of the poison from the foot and it has not given him any trouble yet. He went to a physician, who dressed the injury.

 3. What furnished its illumination by night? Stairs of Bethlehem and moon flowers.
 4. Who rang the bells? May bells, blue bells and hare bells.
 5. With what was the interior decorated? Flags.
 6. Who performed the ceremony? Jack in the pulpit.
 7. What did his assistant wear? Monk's hood.
 8. What elder read prayers? Elder Berry.
 9. Who was the best man? Johnny Jump.
 10. What eight ladies were bridesmaids? Black-eyed Susan, Bonning Ber, Marigold, Poinsett, Rosemary, Daisy, Sweet Marjoram and Rose of Sharon.
 11. What was worn on their hands? Fox gloves.
 12. What two men were ushers? Sweet William and Jack Rose.
 13. What two tramps occupied places? Wandering Jew and Ragged Robin.
 14. What word composed the benediction? Speedwell.
 15. What did the minister receive? Pennyroyal.
- The prizes for this may be flowers, a potted plant, with packets of flower seeds for the consolation.

An event attended by much interest was the celebration of the birthday of Mrs. John P. Cochran. The affair was celebrated on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Cochran, about seven miles west of the city, when the members of the family gathered at the home to spend the day. At noon a delicious dinner was served the guests.

Miss Cassie Miller will entertain the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club on the club day at her home in West Church street.

Mrs. Wilson Heisey is hostess this afternoon to the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club. Mrs. Heisey is entertaining her guests at the Country club.

The Entre Nous club and a number of friends enjoyed a delightful evening of dancing at Moundbuilders Park on Monday evening. An excellent dance program was furnished by the park orchestra. A number of guests were present from out of the city.

The Dorcas Society of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church was entertained last Thursday by Mrs. Joseph Himerl and Mrs. David Alesman at the home of the former near Hebron. This was also the day set for the annual picnic for the Society. With an ideal day and an ideal place at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Himerl all enjoyed a real picnic.

A SUMMER NEGLIGEE WITH PICHE DRAPERY.
The thinnest possible pale blue silk was used to make this cool and pretty negligee for summer wear. The silk is a short train at the back and the thin silk, around the edge of the train, is weighted. Japanese fashion, with a wadded hem. The fichu, of pale blue negligee. One end of this fichu falls to the knee, where the chiffon is lotted, a fall of pleated lace continuing to the floor. To match the negligee there is the invariable boudoir cap of lawn with a pleated lace frill and blue ribbon.

Mary Kappes, Beatrice Stauffer, Freda Stauffer, Olivia Himerl, Eva Shannon, Hazel Whitaker, Mrs. Willis Lees, Mr. and Mrs. James Long, Mrs. Lee Kromer.

LOVE-BUSHEW.
Edward O. Love, a well known railroad man of this city, and Miss Florence L. Bushev, an estimable young woman also of this city, were married Tuesday morning. The ceremony took place at the office of Justice W. F. Holton, and was performed by the 'Squire in his most impressive manner, in the presence of several of the friends of the contracting parties. The newly married couple will make their future home in this city.

JONES-BARTLETT.
Mr. J. S. Jones was married Tuesday afternoon, August 1, at his country home, Bivn Du Farm, Granville, O., to Mrs. Alice Baxter Bartlett of Chicago. Mr. Jones is president of the Jones & Adams Coal company, which operates coal mines in Illinois and Ohio with general offices in Chicago. He also has various other large interests and is a well known business man in Chicago. Mrs. Bartlett has a daughter, Frances, 12 years of age, who Mr. Jones immediately adopted. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left the same evening for the east and expect to return to their country home about the first of September.

Only a few friends and the members of the immediate families were present at the wedding.

Samuel Brumback, chief clerk of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Chicago Junction, and E. N. Randall, division freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, with headquarters in Columbus, were in the city Tuesday.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.
The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, and even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they will give you. Money back if you are not satisfied. Only 50c at F. D. Hall's.

Serious Charges Against Chauffeurs
New York, Aug. 1.—Following the arrest of two taxicab chauffeurs after one had been severely beaten by a female mother, the police today asserted that an organized conspiracy existed among chauffeurs of a certain class to entice girls of tender age from their homes and arrange their transportation to interior cities. The chauffeurs, the police say, act as agents for certain elderly men, and after the girls have been discarded by them they are shipped west to join the white slave colonies of Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago and San Francisco. A score of detectives was today assigned to run down members of the gang.

The police assert that if they can round up the gang they will solve the mystery of the disappearance of dozens of girls.

KILLED BY CARBOLIC ACID.
Zanesville, Aug. 1.—When Mrs. Peter Roach came downstairs to get breakfast she found her husband, a well known business man, dying on the dining room floor, with an empty carbolic acid bottle in his hand. It is not known whether he committed suicide or mistook the bottle of poison for another medicine. He leaves six children.

Spanish Omelet. As a filling for Spanish omelet put through the chopper one-quarter of a pound of quite fat, bacon and one onion; a half of a sweet red pepper may also be chopped. Place all in a saucepan, add four tomatoes, skinned and cut fine, and cook slowly until reduced to a thick sauce. When the omelet is barely set in the pan put two or three spoonfuls of this sauce in the center, then roll it and pour the remainder of the sauce round it on the platter.

Ox Tongue en Casserole. One fresh ox tongue, two carrots, two onions, one turnip, a bunch of parsley, thyme, marjoram, three cloves, six allspice, stock or water, salt and pepper. Wash and trim the tongue carefully, roll it round in the same way as you would ribs of beef, and keep it in shape with a piece of lard. Wash and prepare the vegetables, cut each in half. Lay them in the casserole with the spice. Next put in the tongue, then put in the rest of the vegetables, and pour enough stock or water to half cover the tongue. Put the lid on the casserole, and let the contents simmer gently for four hours. The tongue should be turned once during the cooking. Then either serve it tongue hot, with the stock thickened with cornstarch, seasoned and flavored with a lump of butter, or cold, garnished with a rich parsley.

A PENNY EARNED.
Dear notice has some folks skimping. Yet they go on using strong, good, yellow soap full of lard and lye. This waste more than they can save. How? Buy the Best Tack Laundry Soap. It's a real saving. It gets out the dirt in less time and so you save and pay it out less. It's the best in the world. It costs no more than the harmful materials. Ask any good grocer.

This Is "CN Week"

Trust CN to keep disease from your home

There's only one way to give your home a pure, sweet, thorough, absolute, cleansing. There's only one way to keep it that way—and that's by using CN. If there's ever a time when CN should be in your home, that time is right now! CN used regularly is more than a disinfectant, more than a disease-barrier. It destroys every objectionable odor—it lightens and purifies the heavy summer atmosphere—it makes Summer "liveable."

CN Comes in four sizes

10c.
25c.
50c.
$1.

At all Drug Stores

Don't worry if baby gets the CN bottle

Although CN is the strongest disinfectant in general use, it has none of the dreaded dangers of Carbolic Acids or Chlorides. CN can't poison, it can't burn, it can't explode, —but it can purify and destroy disease germs as nothing else will; and it can heal cuts, burns, bruises, scratches, sores, etc., for there is no finer, more soothing antiseptic than CN.

The best time to lock the stable door is when the horse is in. The best time to get the CN habit is before Disease comes or accidents happen. CN offers four sizes of "Health Insurance"—10c., 25c., 50c. and $1.00 at all drug stores.

CN is guaranteed to be five to six times stronger than pure carbolic acid, yet it is non-poisonous and non-combustible.

CHAIRMAN HANLEY TALKS OUT ON OHIO POLITICS

Edw. W. Hanley, chairman of the Ohio State Central committee, in a statement published in the Cincinnati Enquirer Sunday, makes it plain that he is a loyal Democrat, notwithstanding he was defeated for United States Senator by Atlee Pomerene. Hanley in part said:

"I am a Democrat firm and true at all times and under all circumstances. My only ambition suffered a collapse in the senatorial campaign result, and there is no office, position or honor I crave or would accept. My business and home life is pleasant in every way, and to the extent that mortal man can be satisfied, I am satisfied.

"I hold that personal considerations should be subordinate always to the success of the Democratic party.

"It is possible I may be a delegate from my district to the National Democratic convention in 1912, but it is of no consequence to me whether I am or not. If I should be, my vote would be cast for the present Governor of Ohio, assuming that he will be the only candidate from the state. In the event he cannot be nominated, my alternative choice at this time would be Champ Clark of Missouri.

A strong believer in organization, Chairman Hanley declared party workers performed a public duty and asserted they should be praised instead of vilified.

The work of the Democratic general assembly and the state administration was praised by Hanley as follows:

"The legislative session was turbulent at times, and surrounded with some unpleasant incidents at the close, but much more was accomplished than seemed apparent from a cursory examination. Taxation election and general administrative and financial measures, progressive and useful, were written into the statutes, and nearly every weather-beaten plank in the state structure replaced with better, safer and sounder material, designed to meet the wishes and the necessities of the people. All of these measures are now in process of execution by competent officers, and we can only hope that they will, in the results obtained, reflect the wisdom of the law-making bodies and the executive.

"The Democracy of Ohio has won three successive gubernatorial victories, and at the last election all

NEWARK IN THE LIME LIGHT

Expressed Views of Two Able Democratic Papers On Present Outlook in Our City.

TROUBLES OF AN OHIO CITY.

(Illinois State Register.)

The city of Newark, Ohio, threatens to be again in the throes of political agitation over the lynching tragedy that afflicted that city following unfortunate events of a year ago. The city was fast redeeming itself and restoring its good name by the trial and conviction of the participants in the crime, some of whom received stiff sentences in the penitentiary.

But all the credit that Newark has regained is now threatened by the candidacy for re-election of the mayor, who so neglected his duty on the night of the riot, that the governor removed him from office, and who received such notoriety as to be pictured in nearly every prominent magazine in the country.

After the governor acted there was quick return of law and order, and the prompt prosecution of the lynchers went a great way toward restoring Newark's good name. The outside world was willing to believe that Newark was an orderly city, in which it was SAFE TO OWN PROPERTY, because people could live there in security.

RIGHT SORT OF NEWSPAPER.

(Lima Times Democrat.)

The municipal contest in Newark this year promises to be a heated affair. Ex-Mayor Atherton, who permitted the lynching crime of a year ago, which gave the city such an unsavory reputation left a few days after the riot and went to California. He is now back at Newark running for the office of mayor to "vindicate" himself. This, of course, would be an endorsement of the crime by the voters of the city, and this fact is causing a greatly disturbed feeling among the Newark people. One difficulty to overcome seems to be that there may be too many candidates before the Democratic primaries causing a danger of Atherton securing a plurality of the votes polled.

The Newark Advocate, so well known over the state as a faithful champion of Democracy, is appealing to the Democratic voters of the city to save their party from the disgrace that Atherton's nomination would be certain to cause.

Replying to the statement of the Illinois State Register, above quoted, it can scarcely be doubted that the Democratic voters will be out at the primaries on September 5 in sufficient numbers to save Newark's credit in the esteem of the outside world. This will settle the question that most concerns every home owner in our city that the outside world will be convinced and assured that "Newark is an orderly city, in which it is safe to own property, because people can live there in security."

other state offices were secured by candidates upon the ticket, leaving the Auditor of State a lonesome relic of the Republican army of occupation so long in power and so insistent in holding it against all attacks. Democratic officers may not have reached the goal of perfection in transacting the business of the commonwealth, but it can be safely asserted that they are intensely earnest in an effort to develop system, efficiency and commendable routine application in their respective assignments. Reform is a much abused word, and I hesitate to use it—rather it seems to be evident that great and meritorious improvement has been made in all departments, and to that extent at least, Democratic rule has been beneficial, for honesty and conscientious regard for an official oath counts for little, if there is lacking that business acumen and executive and initiative capacity inseparable from the safe conduct of public business.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.

I saw two bruisers in the ring, and watched them biff and heard them bing. Two humans much like wild beasts grown; their heads were largely made of bone; each had a bobcat's vicious face; they represented all that's base. They were not stirred by martial fire, nor were they full of manly fire, they fought to win the golden bone; they slugged for cash and cash alone. I watched the blow, I heard the thud, and saw the fighters streaked with blood; I heard them gasp, and moan and snort, and sighed, "Great whiskers! Is this sport?" A bard must thump his harp in vain; he can't produce a sounding strain about a scold's scrap like that; the theme is bald and pale and flat. Macaulay well might write his lays of fighting men of olden days, who held the bridge against a host, and then became the Roman beast. And Homer had an easy snap; a poet can enshrine a scrap when they who fight are after fame, or slug because they love the game. But where's the bard to twang a lyre with any show of zeal or fire for low browed bruisers of the sort that fights for shreds and calls it sport?

WE'RE COMING 3000 STRONG

(Communicated.)

Editor Advocate:
Please accept congratulations for your noble stand to protect the Democratic party's future at the coming primaries. The writer is a Democrat who reverses his party and hopes for its success. Your stand cannot fail to arouse Democratic voters of our city, and this year we are going to turn out to the primaries at least 3000 strong. The time has gone by when a few hundred can fix up a plurality at the primaries to bind the large majority that did not vote. This year three thousand or more of us will turn out and do some voting so that the majority will be fairly expressed.

Success to the Advocate's grand effort to save our party.

OLD TIME DEMOCRAT.

There is certainly encouragement in the above assurance of a large turn-out of Democratic voters at the coming primaries. Since the primaries have become such a factor in the laws of the state, as well as the effect on elections, it is highly proper and even necessary for the voters of both parties to express their choice of candidates to be nominated.

There are 3000 Democratic voters in the city of Newark, and if a full vote is polled at the primaries, the party's welfare and the city's credit cannot fail to be maintained. A creditable, clean man is certain to be nominated for mayor by the Newark Democracy.

Only such a man can be elected and only such a man deserves to be elected.

ADVOCATE'S ANNOUNCEMENT

To Democratic Candidates for City Offices at the Coming Primary Election.

The Advocate will not publish any paid announcements of candidates for city offices at the primary elections to be held this year.

The paper deems it necessary to make this departure from what has been its life-long custom in consequence of the unusual existing conditions at this time.

The names of worthy candidates will be printed in these columns from time to time as matters of news only, but paid announcements will be excluded absolutely.

VETO PROMISED FOR WOOL BILL

Announcement From White House
Not Official.

TARIFF SITUATION MUDDLED.

President May Surprise Some of the Regulars by Permitting Democratic Bill to Become Law—Revision is in the Air and Seems Assured For the Next Session.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 1.—[Special].—An announcement was made by the White House press people that a veto would meet the wool bill if the La Follette compromise or the Underwood bill should reach the president. The statement was not officially given out, but was made as soon as the La Follette bill had passed the senate.

Senator Lodge, who is pretty close to the administration, had also given it as his opinion that after the president's message on the subject of the tariff board reports he would not sign any tariff bill that might be sent to him at this session.

But even if there is a veto the fact is apparent that tariff revision is near at hand. The Democrats of the senate with thirteen insurgents and two regulars like Nelson and Mcumber voting for great reductions in the wool schedule and other Republicans joining them on other schedules mean that the reduction of the tariff is strong enough to carry.

Tariff Revision Near.

Of course no tariff bill can be passed over the president's veto. As long as thirty-five Republican senators stand out against revision the president with his veto can stop tariff legislation. And yet revision is in the air. While several persons in authority say it will not be accomplished now, even Republican regulars say that there will be revision in the next session.

The fact that the insurgents have been voting with the Democrats and insuring the passage of tariff revision bills upsets many calculations in regard to the adjournment of the present session. The Democratic leaders have said all along that if the senate would pass their tariff bills they would keep sending them over, but it was well known then that those leaders did not believe the senate would pass their bills. As a matter of politics, the Democrats would prefer to have as many vetoes as possible and consequently they will no doubt continue their tariff bills for some time.

"It's Taft's Session."

"It's Taft's session," remarked a disgruntled Republican. "He was so stuck on reciprocity that he called the session together, and it's up to him to take the consequences."

The president may surprise some of the regular Republicans by approving different tariff bills or allowing them to become laws without his signature. At the same time those standpatters who opposed the Canadian agreement and who were so bitterly opposed to the extra session think that the president is to blame and that he has put the G. O. P. "in a hole." And the insurgents, especially those who have been lashed unmercifully for opposing the reciprocity agreement, are enjoying themselves and the general political situation.

Brandeis Not in It.

Louis Brandeis, the lawyer who made such a record as an investigator, was expected to be in the limelight of some of the investigations which have been conducted, but so far he has taken no part in them, although it has been announced that he will have charge of the Controller bay inquiry.

Brandeis had an opportunity to take hold of the postoffice inquiry, but declined. Then came the Controller bay inquiry, which he accepted just too soon to get hold of the Wiley inquiry, which promises to be more interesting than all others. And besides, the bottom seems to have dropped out of the Controller bay affair.

Politics and Bedfellows.

During the closing days of the debate on the Canadian reciprocity bill that old metaphor about politics and bedfellows was worked rather hard, but Senator Gore got as much out of it as any one. Referring to a remark of Senator Kenyon about a high protectionist like Penrose and a free trader like Williams "blowing out the gas and creeping under the same counterpane" in favor of reciprocity, the Oklahoma senator said: "Just as striking is it to see La Follette and Smoot occupying the same couch and locked in affectionate embrace. We had just as soon repose in the brawny arms of the senator from Pennsylvania as rest in the sinuous arms of the senator from Utah."

Taft and Good Roads.

Probably it is on account of the many auto trips which the president takes, but at all events he is believed to be particularly friendly to good roads and is expected to endorse any national legislation that seems feasible. "We are spending $2,000,000 a year for roads in Alabama," remarked a man from that state, "and we do not get good roads. We hope to interest President Taft in the project and hope he will attend our roads convention and give advice which will be heeded."

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Rattlesnake Had
No Terror For This
Good "Daddy"

"DID you hear, daddy," asked Jack as the evening shadows closed in, "about how brave Farmer Johnson was today when his bull knocked down his boy Bob and began to trample him?"

"Deed I did," replied daddy, "and Mr. Johnson is a hero, but you must remember that the daddies and mothers of all such monkeys as you and Evelyn and your friend Bob, no matter how nervous or scary they may ordinarily be, will do the most astonishing things when their dear ones are in danger."

"They lose all sense of fear, and I firmly believe if your mother came up here and found a tiger in your room she would try to fight it with her hands."

"I was reading only a few days ago about a father down in Arkansas who came home with his wife from church one Sunday afternoon and found a big rattlesnake coiled up on a bed between their two little children. The mother screamed and woke the snake, who poked up his head and stared around, but luckily the two youngsters slept on and never moved."

"Had they moved in their sleep even a quarter of an inch this would be a very different story."

"But the father—John Rhodes his name was—got his hand over his wife's mouth and carried her outside, where he explained to her that another cry might mean the death of both babies. And then he thought, as most men think once only in their lives. He might snatch one child away, but that would leave the other at the snake's mercy. He might shoot the snake, but it was too close to the children for a fair shot. He put a big pan of milk on the floor, but the snake never noticed it."

"Then he got his idea. He walked on tiptoe to his own bed, took off the quilt, wrapped it loosely about both arms and then stepped as noiselessly as a falling leaf to the children's bed. Then, muttering a prayer, he fell forward on the snake with his well wrapped arms and managed to get him out of the house, where he threw the whole bundle on the ground and fell back so weak that he had to let the snake escape to the woods."

"By this time the youngsters were squalling with rage at being so suddenly awakened from their nice nap, but every squall sounded like angels' music to that daddy and mother."

"Did Mr. Rhodes ever get the snake?" asked Jack, who always liked to worry a story to the bitter end.

"He did not," said daddy. "He moved that very afternoon to the nearest city, where they don't have anything more dangerous to children than automobiles."

Women Are Wise.
Women are wiser than men when woman realizes her wisdom. You see, it is something like the horse. The horse doesn't know how strong he is. Man is magnified in the sight of the horse in order to control him and prevent him from demolishing man. Just at present woman is like the horse. Man seems much stronger and bigger to her than he really is. When once she realizes that they are of a size, we be to man! Woman will control everything.—J. Massey Rhind.

Raised a Disturbance.
Harry Miller of Baltimore, Md., who gave his occupation as a butcher, raised a disturbance at the Pennsylvania station Monday night about 8 o'clock and was placed under arrest. He was fined $5 and costs and committed until the amount is paid.

Grass Afire Along Tracks.
Alarm No. 3 called the hook and ladder from the Central Department and the nose reel from the West Newark department at 12 o'clock Tuesday. A small conflagration had been caused by the sparks from passing engines igniting the dry grass along the railroad at Williams street.

Foot Burned.
A lad named Africa, living in Granville street, was painfully burned Monday afternoon at the car barns in East Church street when he stepped upon a piece of hot iron. The lad was barefooted at the time and the iron burned an ugly hole on the sole of his foot. The injury was hurriedly bandaged and the lad was carried to his home where the wound was dressed.

Would Quash Indictment.
Attorney James filed a motion in Mayor Ankele's court Tuesday morning to quash the prosecution of the case of the city against Pete Fraikien, who was arrested last Wednesday for fighting. Pete is one of the belligerent foreigners who have been renewing the war scenes between the southern European principalities and he claims he is a much abused man in this "free America." The case has been continued.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair is First Sign of Age, Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old time remedies with other agents which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

A Well Trained Monkey.
Paris is a favorite center for the thief who uses animals as accomplices. About a year ago a foreign looking man, rather flashy dressed, entered a jeweler's shop in the Rue de la Paix and asked to be shown some rings. A tray was placed before him, but he asked for another. The shop attendant turned to get them. The man did not move; but, as it happened, there was a mirror in the opposite wall behind the counter, put there for the special purpose of detecting thieves. In this the attendant saw a tiny brown head poked out of the customer's pocket; then a long, thin, spidery arm flashed out, seized two rings and vanished. The attendant touched an electric bell, which summoned help, and the man and monkey were both arrested. The man turned out to be a Mexican. He had been traveling with a menagerie, had stolen the monkey and taught the little animal to pick up any article which its owner had previously touched with his finger. His lodgings were full of stolen lace and jewelry.

ITCHING IRRITATION.
Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Cured by Inexpensive Treatment.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting greasy ointment. Try Ilokara, a pure and simple skin food that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids, and which is so cleanly it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only are minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly cured, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Ilokara at small expense, W. A. Erman & Son are selling a liberal sized jar at 25c, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it. Larger size 50 cents.

Baggage Express Charges.
Changes to be made in passenger tariffs in conformity with the Interstate Commerce Commission's order will have the effect of establishing a lower basis of excess baggage charges which is now made on the basis of 16 2-3 per cent of the fare via the standard lines.

The differential lines have used these notwithstanding that their passenger rates are lower. The change is to be made by fixing the excess at 16 2-3 of the fares charged via the differential lines. It means reduction in the excess of about one-sixth of the difference between differential and standard fares.

Hearing in Phone Case.

The contentions of the Gratiot & Brownsville Telephone Co. and the Brownsville Telephone Co., the latter being the one just organized recently, were aired Monday before the state commission at Columbus, both sides having attorneys to present their arguments.

The first company objects to the latter entering a developed telephone field without having first received a certificate from the state department giving it permission to take this course. The latter company inveighs against the service of its competitor, and taken all in all, the hearing was very lively.

The commission gave both sides five days in which to file briefs, and in the meantime reserved decision. The attorneys were Winn, Bassett and Southard of Zanesville for the first company, and M. H. Dougherty of Lancaster and J. H. Fitzgibbon of this city, for the Brownsville company.

A Strange Species of Deer.

Just above the buffet in the dining room of a Richmond house there hangs a huge, finely mounted antlered head. This trophy of the owner's hunting prowess is fastened so firmly to the wall that the glistening neck seems to be coming right out through the plaster. When a little boy from the city saw this decoration for the first time he eyed it with considerable curiosity and very evident uneasiness. It looked almost too lifelike for comfort. Finally the youngster asked to be excused and slipped from his chair, going into the next room. He returned to the dining room flushed with embarrassment.

"What's the matter, Harry?" asked his host.

"I wanted to see," explained the child sheepishly, "if that animal's legs were really as long as that or if he were standing on something in the next room."—Lippincott's.

A Clear Case.

The beautiful young prisoner entered the box in her own behalf.

"What is your age, miss?" asked the lawyer.

"Forty-eight," was the steady reply.

The feminine jury caught its breath with an audible little gasp and sat there rigid.

"How much did you pay for the hat you are wearing?"

"Ninety-eight cents."

"Are you guilty of the crime that is charged against you?"

"No."

Thus did the wily prisoner attempt to establish her veracity and then convince the jury that she was innocent. But don't forget that this was a jury of women. A verdict of incurable insanity was brought in.—New York Journal.

"Yarbs" We Have Known.

What has become of the elderly lady who in the serenades and earlier always referred to an "herb" as a "yarb?" The word has gone out of use. About the nearest "yarb" was a bitter weed named "thoroughwort." Then there was chamomile, dockroot and dandelion. In their miserable partnership, jobella and carnap. These things were "steeped," and you took them or had them thrust upon you "for your blood."—Minneapolis Journal.

Nearly a Joke.

The humorist was in a brown study. "I'll get it yet," he muttered.

"What's the matter, dear?" his wife inquired. "You seem to be puzzled about something."

"Yes," the jokesmith replied. "I'm trying to make a 'stitch in time' joke about the girl who is darned the clocks in her stockings."

Useless Sacrifice.

Duncan had eaten, with symptoms of pleasure, his first shrimp, but the mushroom that followed it proved less to his liking.

"Mother," he said, pushing the partly eaten agaric to the far edge of his plate, "I wish they hadn't killed that one."—Youth's Companion.

No Crown For Him.

Sunday School Teacher—If you are a good boy, Willie, you will go to heaven and have a gold crown on your head. Willie—Not for mine, then. I had one of them things put on a tooth once.—Exchange.

Not Much Resistance.

"Did the prisoner offer any resistance?"

"Only a shilling, your worship, and I wouldn't take it."

The total consumption of beef and mutton in Great Britain in 1909 amounted to 1,990,000 tons, of which 595,000 tons were imported in a frozen state.

In a beefsteak eating contest between boys' and girls' teams of the Brooks Bowling Club, New York, the girls won first honors.

FAMOUS EARTHWORKS
OF LICKING COUNTY

Professor of Physiography of Pittsburgh School Describes Work of Mound Builders.

The ancient earthworks of which Newark is justly proud, received prominent mention in an article appearing in the Sunday issue of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The article is entitled, "The Romance of the Earth's History," and is written by J. Gordon Ogden, professor of physiography of the Central High School at Pittsburgh.

In connection with a small sketch of one of the mounds the following is used:

The famous earthworks at Newark, Ohio, are worthy of more extended description than the limits of this article will permit. Anyone who is at all interested in the subject of Archeology should make a pilgrimage to these celebrated remains. They are without doubt the best preserved prehistoric works in the United States, and remain practically as they were laid out by the Mound Builders. These works include a "Great Circle," an "Observatory Circle," an "Octagon," a "Square," and a number of smaller enclosures and mounds.

The wall of the Great Circle varies in width from 35 feet to 55 feet, and its height from 5 feet to 14 feet. It is almost 1,200 feet in diameter, and is not a true circle. The Observatory Circle has an average height of 4 1/2 feet, and a diameter of 1,055 feet. It is almost a mathematically correct circle. The Great Octagon, so called from its shape, has walls averaging 3 feet in height and 1,400 feet in length. The square is a smaller enclosure, originally connected with the Great Circle by a series of parallels. It is not a perfect square, but the deviation is slight.

Possibly the most interesting of all the earthworks left to us as a heritage by the Mound Builders is the Great Serpent Mound, located in Adams county, Ohio. It is most conveniently reached from the village of Peebles, a station on the Norfolk and Western railroad, about 72 miles east of Cincinnati. A pleasant drive of several miles through the vales and woodlands of Southern Ohio, brings one to this famous masterpiece of ancient days. The Serpent is on the crest of a bold headland with steep cliffs on three sides, sheltering almost perpendicularly downward to a wooded valley through which winds Brush Creek.

The graceful folds of the Serpent are about five feet in height, about twenty feet in breadth, and cover a distance of over 1,300 feet. In the wide gaping jaws of the huge effigy is the representation of an egg, which is an oval enclosure 121 feet long and 60 feet wide. The tail is twisted into three close coils. The whole work is beautiful in its symmetry and correct in its proportions. The coils are even and remarkably well rounded. In the center of the egg enclosure there is a heap of stones, the remains of an ancient fireplace whence the Mound Builders were wont to flash signals for miles in every direction.

Beautiful and perfect as the Great Serpent Mound appears in the full glare of the sunlight, its mystical charm can be better appreciated in the soft radiance of the moon. Then, indeed, it appears at its best. The sinuous curves of the mighty monster seem to stretch their silvery length far into the greyness of the night. On every side, down the steep cliffs, sombre shadows tell of awful depths and darkling chasms.

The mournful notes of the Whippoorwill, and the splashing of the waters far below, are fitting accompaniments of this eerie scene. Then from out of the night shadows come other shadows, wraiths of the strange people who wrought this wondrous thing. Thousands of warriors, maidens, and priests wind down the valley in stately procession to invoke the ancient gods or to expiate some awful crime with frightful sacrifice.

The Serpent still suns its shining coils on that far off, lonely knoll. Its makers are dust, but like its sister, the Sphinx, far above the seas, the Great Serpent looks with age old eyes into the mystery of the past, seeing only the romance and glamor of a race that waned upon the dawning of our day.

Paid Immense Pension Fund.

In addition to the Pennsylvania railroad system's superannuation and pension disbursements, the latest reports of the system's relief funds show that since 1886 there have been paid in benefits a total of $31,066,116.22. This amount represents benefits paid to members who were incapacitated for work and also to the families of those who died. During the month of June the sum of $185,308.62 in benefits have been paid to members or their families on the lines east and west of Pittsburgh and Erie.

In June the relief fund of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh paid out a total of $53,122.25, of which $16,350 were for the families of members who died and $36,772.25 for members unable to work. The sum of $8,485,361.76 represents the total payments of the relief fund of the lines west since it was established in 1889.

Erie to Have Pension List.

Erie employees are planning to establish a pension system among themselves, independent of the company. A committee has been appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws and will have its work ratified at a meeting to be held in Kent next month. It is proposed to have a large per cent of the 42,800 men and women on the pay rolls of the company enrolled. Under the proposed system the men can retire on pension at an age agreed upon, possibly 70 years, and during the remainder of their lives can draw 50 per cent of the wages received while they were in the service.

Pay of Railroad Men.

The pay of railroad employees in the aggregate was almost doubled in the years from 1900 to 1909, according to a bulletin just issued by the bureau of railroad economics. The bulletin says that the total compensation of railway employees, exclusive of general officers, increased from a little over $500,000,000 in 1900 to $972,000,000 in 1909, or an increase of 72.3 per cent. In 1907 the total compensation was over $1,000,000,000.

Aggregate labor compensation amounted to nearly three-fifths of the total operating wages. If account were taken of wages represented in materials and supplies purchased by railroads, probably not less than four-fifths of the money spent for railway operations would resolve itself into salaries and wages. It is significant that during the nine years from 1900 to 1909, when operating expenses increased about 77 per cent, labor compensation continued to claim the same share of total expenditure.

STONE TABLET
ON OLD BRIDGE
NEAR NEWARK

Contains True Prophecy Carved
Years Ago While Building the National Road.

Columbus O., Aug. 1.—When the builders of the old National Road created a splendid stone bridge across a little river ten miles west of Zanesville and 17 miles east of Newark, they put in place a stone tablet, where all who passed might read, bearing this remarkable inscription: "The Policy of the Nation, Reciprocity at Home and Abroad." That bridge was finished in 1830, and there the tablet has stood a part of the barrier along the roadside for 81 long years, bearing a prophecy that, was chiseled by careful hands in the time of Andrew Jackson and that has at last borne fruit in the administration of William H. Taft.

The bridge itself is a white stone structure with artistic lines, massive and durable. For more than eighty years it has stood there a monument to the foresight and energy of the pioneers who newed the National Road through the wilderness into the then "western country north of the Ohio river." It was designed by a young German engineer in the service of the government. In summer there seems no need of the elaborate structure since not a drop of water flows under it now, but in fresher times the torrents rush from the surrounding hills and flow down the little valley under the arch in a turbulent flood. It was to insure travelers along the government highway against such obstructions to progress that the arch was thrown over the stream bed, but why was the tablet with its inscription made a part of the structure.

The bridge stands in a most picturesque surroundings. The hills and forests secluded it from long stretches of view and there are few and scattered inhabitants in the immediate vicinity. There is less human activity in that section now than in earlier days because the railroads and traction lines have swung to the right or left to avoid the hills and development has followed the rails.

So here, amid these picturesque surroundings, breathing of romance and the history of the famous old highway the builders in that long ago chiseled into the stone tablet a slogan of the administration, "The Policy of the Nation, Reciprocity at Home and Abroad."

It was the idea of "reciprocity at home," the development of commerce and brotherly communication between the east and the "great west," that led to the construction of the National Road, but the idea of "reciprocity abroad" was even then in the minds of the men who directed the destinies of the young republic from the capitol and the White House. So it was probably with the sanction of President Jackson himself that the tablet on this handsome stone bridge among the Ohio hills bore the inscription that now seems like a prophecy from out of the far past.

JUVENILE COURT
PAID COMPLIMENT

C. V. Van Niman, parole officer of the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster, O., stopped over in the city Tuesday on his way home from the north, and made a very pleasant visit at the probate court. Mr. Van Niman takes great interest in the working of the juvenile courts and their officers and paid the juvenile court of Licking county a very high compliment when he said that this court was one of the very best in Ohio.

THE COST OF LIVING.

The real cost of living is not reckoned in dollars and cents—it's paid for in physical energy and the compensation is in physical and mental comfort. Many women do not enjoy life because they are overworked. Consequently, labor-saving devices are the most welcomed of all inventions. Prominent in this class is Hewitt's white Easy Task soap for kitchen and laundry use. It does half the work itself, kills the germs, does not harm the hands or fabrics, and makes an easy task of household drudgery.

The honesty of some men consists of the fact that they won't steal so long as they can borrow.

Only one tenth of the population of this country is of unaltered descent.

COURT NEWS

In the case of the Newark Lumber company against Eugene Koos, the New York Life Insurance company, garnishee, has filed its answer in which it says that on March 12, 1904, it issued a policy for $2,000 to Eugene J. Koos; that the premiums have been paid and that no part of the policy has become due, and therefore they hold nothing. It prays that the court make such an order as will fully protect it, and that it may go hence and recover its costs.

BOARD OF TRADE OUTING THURSDAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

The outing and picnic to be held by the members of the Board of Trade and their friends at the Country Club, just west of the city Thursday afternoon, promises to be the largest and most enjoyable event of the kind ever held by the enterprising men of Newark. While many will go up to the grounds at different times during the afternoon, a special car will leave the interurban station at 4 o'clock. During the afternoon there will be games of all kinds, including base ball, golf, tennis, croquet, quoits and cards. At 6 o'clock a sumptuous dinner will be served in the club house, after which the address of welcome will be made by Mr. A. A. Stasel, president of the Country Club, which will be responded to by Mr. C. H. Spencer, president of the Board of Trade, after which informal talks will be made by the members of the Board of Trade and others. Great preparations are being made for the affair and a royal good time is anticipated by all who attend.

CHINCH BUGS VISIT TIFFIN

Large swarms of chinch bugs made their appearance on the street here and covered the clothing of the pedestrians, writes the Tiffin Advertiser. In several places on the main streets they have been so dense as to attract unusual attention.

Throughout the country districts they are perhaps in larger swarms than in the city and their ravages upon the corn and grain is causing great loss to the farmers at this time. One farmer stated today that they were so thick in his corn fields that they would eat the stalks at the bottom and cause them to break from their own weight. So far as known there is no remedy for the pests. Froze reports the plague-like appearance is by no means a local one, and it seems that they have been carried into the city from the adjacent country by the wind. There is no other way of accounting for their presence.

ODD FELLOWS WILL PICNIC AT ZANESVILLE

A number of Newark Odd Fellows will attend the Odd Fellows big picnic that is to be held at Moxahala park, in Zanesville, Thursday, August 17. All the Odd Fellows lodges in Central Ohio have been invited, and it is expected that this will be one of the largest picnics ever held in Ohio by a fraternal organization. Large delegations will be in attendance from Woodsfield, Caldwell, Cambridge, Barnesville, Newark, Thurston, Shawnee, Coshocton, Lancaster, New Lexington, Crooksville, Roseville, Malta and McConnellsville. One of the great features of the program will be the grand I. O. O. F. review at the park.

BOY SCOUTS NOT MILITARY.

The leaders of the Boy Scouts of America insist that the movement is not military. Upon this point they have issued the following statement: "The primary object of the Boy Scouts of America is not military, but peace scouting and educational character building for good citizenship. The military virtue of obedience, neatness, order, endurance and erect and alert bearing are, however, scout virtues. It also appreciates the fact that boyhood properly developed and cared for will produce efficient material for the defense of our land if this should become necessary. Its aim therefore is to center its interest on the peace scouting activities that will fill up the recreation periods of a boy's life and give him the training which is necessary to the development of an all-around man. Everything that tends to develop boys in this manner is good scoutcraft, and the Boy Scouts of America insist on the knowledge of campcraft, woodcraft, chivalry, life-saving, personal hygiene and patriotism being put into the boy's recreation education in right proportions."

FRED DUPLER FAST IMPROVING

Fred Dupler, one of the victims of the accident at the park a week ago Sunday, is slowly improving at his home in the Franklin addition. Mr. Dupler was injured about the spine and for a time had no control over the muscles of his legs. His attending physician stated to the Advocate Tuesday afternoon that he was improving every day and that he would recover from the injury. This statement from an authoritative source, sets at rest the rumors which were being circulated to the effect that the man was fatally hurt.

POSTMASTER SINCE '61 IS DEAD

Glen Falls, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Geo. W. L. Smith, 72 years old, the second oldest postmaster in the country in point of service, is dead at his home at Smith's Basin, Washington county. He was appointed assistant postmaster during Buchanan's administration, and since 1861 had been postmaster. In 1872 he was a member of the New York assembly.

CITY IS 40 YEARS OLD.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 1.—Thousands of visitors are here for the six-day fete celebrating the 40th birthday of the city. The star attraction today was an automobile parade with more than 800 machines in line. Many of these machines belonged to summer visitors, which led to much rivalry of an interstate nature.

NEWARK MAN HAD BAD FALL AT ST. LOUISVILLE

John Dollison, a carpenter of this city, met with a very painful and serious accident while working in St. Louisville Monday afternoon. He was standing on a scaffold when he fell to the ground, a distance of 15 or 18 feet. He sustained a number of very severe bruises and was injured internally. Criss Bros. & Jones' ambulance was rushed to St. Louisville and brought the injured man to Newark, where he was taken to his home on Vine street. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Chas. Stimson.

ABERNATHY BOYS WILL RIDE FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

New York, Aug. 1.—From Coney Island to the Pacific Coast on horseback is the trip which is being undertaken by the Abernathy boys, the two little veterans of the saddle who last year rode into New York from Oklahoma. It was one minute after midnight Monday night when Louis Abernathy, 11 years old and his brother Temple, four years his junior, started on the trip which will take them 3600 miles. If they make the ride in 60 days riding and abiding by certain conditions, they will win $5000.

The boys have agreed that they will not eat or sleep under a roof during the ride. They will ride up the eastern shore of the Hudson to Albany, thence west and will conclude their trip at Presidio Park, San Francisco.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin of Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C. for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free at F. D. Hall's.

BURRIER REUNION.

The 15th annual reunion of the Burrier family will be held Thursday, August 3, in the Rachel Francis grove, 2 1-2 miles west of Pleasant Valley.

It is the desire of the committee to have the families meet in the grove as early in the day as possible so that a full day of sociability may be enjoyed. Friends are invited.

OBITUARY

MRS. A. LINN.

Mrs. A. Linn, aged 69 years, 11 months and 11 days, died at her home in Alston avenue Tuesday morning at 4:59 o'clock, after an illness extending over a period of nearly a year with neuralgia of the stomach. Since last Saturday she had been seriously ill. Mrs. Linn had lived in the house in Alston avenue nearly all her life. She was a good Christian woman and for many years had been a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist church. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, J. W. Linn, two sons, Samuel and George, and one daughter, Emma, all of whom reside in Newark. The funeral services will be held at the house Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Ward, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

DEATH OF INFANT.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson, residing at 93 South Second street, died at the home of the parents at an early hour Monday morning. The burial was made in Cedar Hill cemetery Monday afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks to all who assisted during the sickness and death of our husband and father; also for the beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. L. H. Pierce and Children.

Not One Fatal Accident.

To carry 19,191,600 people, or one-tenth of the total passenger traffic in 1910, without a single fatal accident, is the record claimed by the Harbinger railroad lines in a report made by the director of maintenance and operation. On a one-mile basis the number of passengers carried was 2,000,000,000. The total number of passengers carried in the United States in 1909, according to the Interstate commerce commission's report, was 29,000,000,000.

There are said to be fewer suicides among miners than among any other class of workmen.
